Request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA)

I write in connection with your request for information, which was received by Nottinghamshire Police on 18/09/2020.

Following receipt of your request searches were conducted within Nottinghamshire Police to locate the information you require.

RESPONSE

Under S 1 (1) (a) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), I can confirm that Nottinghamshire Police does hold the information you have requested.

- 1. Please list, including location and offence, all crimes committed by people in possession of UK police or British military issued weapons, in each of the last three full calendar years, broken down by year, along with 2020 to date.
- 2. How many UK police or British military issued weapons have been recovered (not including amnesties or surrenders) by your force, in each of the last three full calendar years, broken down by year, along with 2020 to date.

This information is not recorded in an easily retrievable format. To locate, retrieve and extract the requested information requires a manual search of all records held. An initial search revealed a total of 4170 records over a three year period. We do not have qualifiers to break down the data as stipulated by the applicant. We can search property records under firearms, ammo and explosives but would then need to manually review each record to determine if the firearm could be classified by the criteria outlined in the request.

It is estimated that to search one record would take approximately 10 minutes which would equate to approximately 695 working hours (for 3 years' worth of records). This takes the request over the cost threshold of 18 working hours and engages Section 12 (1) of the Act.

This letter constitutes a refusal notice under Section 17(5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 with Section 12(1) of the act being applied

12. – (1) Section 1(1) does not oblige a public authority to comply with a request for information if the authority estimates that the cost of complying with the request would exceed the appropriate limit.

Should you wish for the Force to continue with your request, a more accurate figure will be provided within a fee's notice. The cost will need to be paid by you, prior to any further investigation. Please advise if you wish to proceed.

Alternatively you are invited to refine your request to bring it within the cost threshold – Due to how the data is stored I am unable to suggest a refinement that would bring the cost within the cost threshold.

In accordance with the Act, once one part of the request exceeds the cost threshold the entire request exceeds the cost threshold.

This letter constitutes a refusal notice under Section 17 (5) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000.
