Request under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA)

I write in connection with your request for information, which was received by Nottinghamshire Police on 26/03/2014.

Following receipt of your request searches were conducted within Nottinghamshire Police to locate the information you require.

Please find below answers to your questions:-

RESPONSE

Under S 1 (1) (a) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), I can confirm that Nottinghamshire Police does hold the information you have requested.

Q1. How much training do your police officers receive each year in first aid and self defence?

Police Officers receive two days Self Defence and half a day First Aid training.

Q2. Authorised Professional Practice (College of Policing - incorporating Guidance on Safer Detention and Handling of Persons in Police Custody) advocates police officers risk assess detainees from the point of arrest and take them to hospital if necessary - Do you expect your officers to adhere to this national policy and if so can you guarantee that they do so?

Nottinghamshire Police do expect Officers to adhere to this national policy. They work in line with the National Authorised Professional Practice and Force Criminal Justice policy. Under this policy the Arresting Officer must conduct a risk assessment at the point of arrest, part of this risk assessment is whether the suspect can and should be brought into custody – checking of head injuries, medication for example - or if alternative action should be taken such as escorting them to hospital. On arrival in custody the arresting Officer must then convey the details of the risk assessment and circumstances of arrest and this is then recorded on the Custody Record and supports the authorisation of detention. This policy must be followed and is there to ensure National Guidance is followed.

In relation to your question as to whether we can guarantee that it is followed, we do not have information recorded.
